DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office action is responsive to amendment received on 3/2/2006.
Claim 3 is cancelled as requested.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 3/2/2006 with respect to claims 4-8 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Examiner discussed, otherwise known and old, in the rejection of claim 4 that HAVi network architecture is to promote interoperability (i.e., plug and play). When a new UpnP media rendering device joins an UpnP network it announces its presence to the media server. Media server can determine the identity of the new media-rendering device by translating a received IP address. Each device, e.g., Bluetooth compatible device, has unique identifier mapped into IP address by a proxy-bridge device. The mapping allows external devices to interact with a proxy bridge device with the aid of the IP address corresponding to the bridge address. The Examiner believes that the prior knowledge, as explained above, with the cited art, Ludtke '049, will motivate the Applicant to modify Ludtke by incorporating above in order to enable incompatible consumer electronic media devices (e.g., BT devices) networked together to exhibit increased functionality.

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

4. Claims 4-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ludtke (US 6,237,049).

Regarding claim 4, Ludtke teaches a HAVi compatible device network operating as a proxy for bridging two devices and enabling communication between the devices on a common network (see abstract). Discovering and declaration of a device as a HAVi device on a subnetwork (see figure 11 and column 20, lines 20-30). Although, Ludtke does not disclose UpnP protocol specific operation the Examiner takes official notice that the purpose of the HAVi network architecture is to promote interoperability (i.e. plug and play) (see abstract). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have included a UpnP protocol specific specification into a HAVi network environment to promote interoperability of plug and play devices.

Regarding claims 5 and 7, Ludtke teaches software elements from a HAVi registry (see 710 of figure 7).

Regarding claim 6, Ludtke teaches address and port information included in the header fields (see figure 3D).

Regarding claim 8, The Examiner takes official notice that a network would operate to include http readability as a fundamental protocol for network computers.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
